

Results: North American QSO Party, CW, August 2024

Usually, the summertime NAQP contests are found to be more challenging than January's events from a dual standpoint of higher low-band QRN and limited east-west propagation on the high bands. It turned out that this August's running of the CW NAQP was all of this, and seemingly more. Hurricane Debby was churning up the Gulf of Mexico during the contest, spinning rain bands across the Florida peninsula and generating impressive thunderstorm QRM that impacted everyone in the southeastern part of the country. While one would think the solar cycle peak would result in fantastic 10-meter propagation, August is the wrong time of year for this, and it actually seemed as if the elevated solar flux had a negative impact on this summer's Sporadic E season. This combination resulted in a test of fortitude for participants, with rewards for those who were up to the challenge. Nearly 850 logs were submitted, down slightly from a year before, and despite everything it seemed as if everyone had a great time.

Single-Operator

Dave, K5GN, has tirelessly put in a lot of man hours climbing towers, fixing antennas, and doing general maintenance at his host's, W5KU, station. All this work paid off as he piloted the station to his first single-operator win in the NAQP. He was able to squeak out more QSOs on 10 and 15 meters than last August's winner, Tor, N4OGW, who came in second. Tor was able to make more QSOs on the low bands; however, it was not enough to make up the difference. Third place went to the perennial top - scoring KØEU. Randy's effort was anchored by a huge 20-meter effort with more than 500 QSOs and 56 multipliers on that band alone. Mitch, K7RL, finished fourth for the top score from the West Coast, and top five was rounded out with a strong effort by Mike, W9RE.

Single-Operator QRP

The QRP category in the August NAQP is not for the faint of heart. The battle to be heard through the QRM while limited to 5 watts output was won by Mike, WØEWD, in Iowa, who bested frequent QRP entrant W6JTI from the West Coast. KØAV rounded out the top three with a strong effort, operating the last eight hours of the contest after missing the first four.

Single-Operator Assisted

Few people have had as dominant a run in a category as AA3B. Since the inception of the assisted category, Bud has won all but one NAQP CW, finishing second in this past January's event. In August, he returned to the top place in the results. One would think that Bud, an accomplished 2BSIQ (two bands, synchronized interleaved QSOs) operator, would be utilizing that technique for the entire contest. However, that would be an incorrect assumption. A review of his logs show that he actually primarily operated classic SO2R, using cluster data to chase QSOs and multipliers with the non-run radio. Granted, he has well refined his technique and obviously knows how and when to call stations to make QSOs rapidly, but it proves that at least in the assisted category, one does not need to operate 2BSIQ extensively for a competitive score.

Second place goes to Gator, N5RZ, who has been working hard to rebuild his station following winter storm ice damage. Gator ended up with 15 more multipliers than AA3B but fell short in total QSOs, primarily on the low bands. Close on his heels was N4ZZ, taking third from Tennessee. Marko, N5ZO, and Jim, AD4EB, rounded out the top five positions.

Single-Operator Assisted QRP

Despite struggling with deep QSB, Keith, VE7KW, took the top spot in the QRP assisted category with a very modest station consisting of a hex beam and dipoles. The bulk of his QSOs were made on 20 meters. Second place went to frequent NAQP entrant Don, K6GHA.

Multi-Two

There was a real horse race between the top two multi-two entrants. Always competitive is the team at W2FU, who pulled away with the victory with more than 1900 QSOs logged, and a record score for this category in August. There was a strong showing by the 2-man team at N4WW's well-appointed station, using W1CW in memory of Bob White. However, they came up just short despite working 18 more multipliers.

Youth

Sam, WO5T, used a strong showing on 20 and 15 from the K5TR station to come in first among the under-25-years-old competitors. Piloting the K3LR superstation, Katie, KE8LQR, edged on the low bands to take second place. Noah, NI9F; Bob, WØAAE, and Jules, K3IEY, rounded out the Youth Top 5.

Jake, KA4JAM (now WV4AM - congrats on the Extra), and Ian, K18AN, were the only ops born later than 1998 in the assisted category.

Team Scores

It's worth noting that the top team award goes to Deep Dixie CC Team Elvis, consisting of N4OGW, K7RL, K5KU, N5EE, and KZ5D. Their nearly 1.4 million points set a new August NAQP CW team record, and just beat out the second - place FRC Team. Competency by only 50K points. The Frankford Radio Club team consisted of assisted category winner AA3B, plus W8FJ, NY3A, N3RD, and W2GD.

Final Thoughts

Please note that the log submission deadline is consistent with many other contests at one week; this allows for a quick turnaround on the preliminary final scores, which are welcomed by everyone. The vast majority of logs are submitted within the first 12-24 hours of the end of the contest, and the flow of submissions slows to a trickle by day seven. Inevitably, a few logs are submitted past the deadline, and these are usually accepted despite being late unless the entrant is submitting a competitive score.

Log checking usually begins about one week past the submission deadline, with preliminary results posted shortly thereafter. There is a lot of “behind the scenes” volunteer work, especially by Tree, N6TR, and Bruce, WA7BNM, to perform log checking and to compile the final scores. Once this work begins, I am unable to accept any additional late logs as it would require the results to be re-run. I often receive a handful of submission requests once log checking has begun, usually from folks who had joined a team and had forgotten to submit a score. I hate having to say “sorry,” so I urge everyone to submit their log as early as possible, while fresh on their mind.

Additionally, as mentioned previously in a results write-up, I can provide a copy of your log check report if asked. These are generally available once the preliminary scores are posted online. I am actually surprised at how few requests I receive for this report after a contest. It’s a great opportunity to see how accurate – or not – your log is and a review of the report may help improve your score in the future. By far, the top error - inducing action is to default to a pre-fill data entry instead of copying what is sent over the air. There are many ops who change up the name they use from contest to contest, as well as QTH (and state) changes if guest operating or relocating. Please drop me an email if interested in your report; this is not an automated process but I will reply as quickly as possible. Please contact the NAQP SSB and RTTY contest managers if interested in those log check reports as I only have those from the NAQP CW.

Within a few weeks, the January NAQP contest dates will be here. Scientists believe the peak of the current sunspot cycle has arrived. Will this result in incredible propagation and record scores? It’s definitely possible. Tune in next January to find out!
